Dien Kerr and Ambrese Clark Ride the Other Placed Horses-Father Bill Daly Scores His First Victory of the Year-Five Favorites Win at Bennings.

WASHINGTON, March 26 .- Although the weather was cloudy all day, a large crowd attended the races at Bennings this afternoon, hundreds of society people being on hand to see the running of the Chevy Chase Handicap, in which gentlemen riders, wearing pink hunting coats, white breeches, top ots and high silk hats, had the mounts.

This event has grown to be immensely popular with the smart set, and when the jumpers emerged from the paddock gate there was a warm welcome in store for them and their riders. Clarence Moore's pair, The Hawk and Montrip, were coupled favorites at 8 to 5. The former was ridden by Mathews, while the latter was handled by Mr. Devereux. S. P. Knutt, who had a lively experience last year, had the leg up on his half bred Twilight, who ruled second choice at 11 to 5. Dion Kerr, one of the best amateur horsemen in the country, rode his bay mare Lefida, well supported at threes.
while T. Ambrosa Clark of New York, was astride of R. K. Wetmore's La Touraine,

From a racing standpoint the affair did not amount to much, but society was de-lighted, just the same. Mr. Knott proceeded to make the running with Twilight, who took the jumps nicely and was never caught, winning in hollow fashion by four lengths. La Touraine and The Hawk clung to the leader for a while, but Montrip fell at the second jump, throwing Mr. Devereux on his head.

On the second time around La Touraine stumbled and hurled Mr. Clark to the ground. The young millionaire remounted, however, apparently unhurt and went, after the flying field. Mr. Kerr had assumed second place, meanwhile, with Lepida and, as the race turned out, he held on to this advantage to the end, finishing on eighth of a mile ahead of La Touraine, who got third money, as The Hawk, carrying the public's money, fell the last time around the course. Mr. Knott was warmly congratulated and Mr. Clark received a mild ovation for his pluck Mr. Kerr also came in for a round of applause.

There was still another steeplechase delight the lovers of this branch of the turf, but only professional jockeys were the silk It was run immediately after the Chevy Chase and Gum Honey, Heider up, was the favorite at 7 to 5. Manilian was devoured at threes, too, with desultory backing for the rest. Harrow showed the way until he fell, after which Gum Honey went to the front and won as he pleased by two engths, Manilian beating Boney Boy by five lengths for the place. Capt. Hayes, the lt was a great day for the talent, as five favorites and a second choice were victorious. The first four races went to favorites off the reel, the ring receiving numerous hard joits. The racing was interesting, even though real class was again lacking because of the unfitness of many of the best horses at the track.

Father Bill Daly won his first race of the season when his five-year-old mare. Torchlight, captured the third event, for platers at seven furlongs. Torchlight was made a slight favorite over 0. L. Richards's Briarthorpe at 5 to 2, the latter closing at threes while Nine Spot was accepted by many at 18 to 5. Daly put O'Brien in the saddle and the youngster simply sat still, Torchlight showing her heels to the others as soon as Starter Cassidy let them go. At the wire the had an advantage of three lengths over Briarthorpe, who, chiefly because of H. Phillips's heavy drive, managed to take second money from Nine Spot by a head. The old campaigner Arrangowan was half a length back.

The old campaigner Arrangowan was half a length back.

In the first event, at five and a half furlongs, sais, who ran second to Shrine in the Bennings Handloap on Thursday, was made a hot favorite at 7 to 5. Rain or Shine, the winner of the opening race of the season here, ruled second choice at threes, with Gold Dome and Queen Elizabeth fancied at 8 to 2 and 5 to 1, respectively, Mrs. Frank Foster, who was a sensational and consistent winner here last spring, was overlooked. She went to the post with 30 to 1 about her, and with a stronger ride she might have won. As it was it required all of Wonderly's skill to keep Sais in front to the end, where he had two lengths over Mrs. Frank Foster, the latter barely beating Rain or Shine a head. Bath Beach made all of the running to the middle of the stretch, where he blew up.

R. W. Walden's Filigree, by Filigrane-Edith, proved an easy winner of the second race, for maiden two-year-olds at four and a half furlongs. His good race in the Albemarle Purse on Thursday made him look the best of the lot and he went to the barrier at odds on. A. L. Aste's Cashier, a colt by Longflight—Trusty, was a warm tip and was played generously at 18 to 5, but H. Phillips was unable to get him out of the ruck at any stage. Burns took Filigree to the frost instantly and stayed there, the son of Filigrane coming home on the bit with two lengths to spare. The struggle for second and third money was intensely interesting, Only One, a colt by Tenny—Ordelle; Melrose, a colt by The Pepper—Katie Bramble, and Allen Avon, a son of Aloha—Avola, finishing heads apart in the order named.

Avola, finishing heads apart in the order named.

The California crack, Lord Melbourne, carrying S. S. Bender's colors, was the choice at 6 to 5 in the fourth race, at a mile and forty yards, but both Rough Rider and Meistersinger were heavily backed. Lord Melbourne was so sore when he came out on the track that many who had bet on him hurried back to the ring and hedged either on Rough Rider or Meistersinger. In the race, however, the California horse showed his usual speed and made all the pace. Hicks was after him in hot style with Meistersinger from the start and in the last jump it seemed to many as if the favorite had been trimmed by a nose, but the judges gave Lord Melbourne the benefit of the doubt, the backers of Meistersinger giving vent to their feelings by hissing. Hough Rider was half a length away.

Jockey Redfern is on the ground for three days because of disobedience at the post yesterday. The stewards are investigating the ownership of Scotch Thistle and Arden, formerly the property of "Dan Smith," the tipster who was disciplined at New Orleans for an alleged insult offered to the Judges. The Hartford Futurity, one of the classic events in light harness racing, will close nominations with Secretary E. M. Stalks, Madison Square Garden, to-morrow. The race is for foals of 1904 to start in 1907, and the winner's portion will be $7,500. SUCCESSFUL TOY SPANIEL SHOW.

Mrs. Goldenberg Wins the Team Special From Thomas W. Lawson's Entries. In baskets and glass houses gay with ribe bons and Easter flowers, the daintiest pet logs of English royalty and Japanese Princes dogs of English royalty and Japanese Princes were on view in the Waldorf-Astoria banquet hall yesterday, the occasion being the first annual show of the Toy Spaniel Club of America. There were entries of Blenheim, King Charles, Prince Charles and Ruby spaniels, besides the wee and saucy Japanese specials, and a way large and enthusis se spaniels, and a very large and enthusiastic attendance.

Although the club is three years old, this was its opening public show and the members were lavish with special cups for prizes, and in making entries. The spaniels on view comprised nearly all the blue ribbon winners at the New York, Boston, Philadelphia and Chicago shows, and it was a difficult task to choose between so many fine types. All the judging was done by Mrs. R. F. Mayhew, who acquitted herself of the task in a most who acquitted herself of the task in a most creditable manner.

Thomas W. Lawson, president of the Toy Spaniel Club, showed his tricolored spaniels Ashton Defender and Lord Too Woo, and the orange and white Darnell Donnington, Little Rollo and Lord Too Wit, winning in many of the regular classes. The Nellcote Kennels, owned by Mrs. S. J. Goldenberg, were also represented by many noted spaniels, other ethibitors including Mrs. A. M. Raymond Mallock, the first president of the club: Mrs. H. Lee Anstey, Mrs. Madeline Beam, H. H. Knowles, Mrs. F. J. Sternberg, Ashton Kennels, Miss C. C. Whitney, Miss H. G. Parlett, F. G. Boesger, and, in Japanese spaniels, Mrs. Sinnott, Mrs. R. K. Sichel, Miss L. E. Turney, Mrs. W. S. Wells and the Crestwood Kennels.

The special for the best at the show was won by Mrs. Goldenberg's tri-color Champlon Darnell Kitty, which scooped the boards at the Westminster show, with Mrs. Sinnot's Japanese Fuss, reserve. For the brace special Mrs. Goldenberg showed Darnell Kitty and the Blenheim, or orange and white, Ashton Perfection, a famous winner in England as McKinley Bill. While excelling as individuals, the pair were passed over for Mrs. Menges's well matched 'two of a kind," Sampson and Miss Sampson, both of the King Charles variety. Sampson also won for Mrs. Menges's well matched 'two of a kind," Sampson and Miss Sampson, both of the King Charles variety. Sampson also won for Mrs. Menges the special for the loss of the brace prize, for with Darnell Kitty, Ashton Perfection, Ashton Merriment and Rollo, "champion of the champions" in Blenheims, she won from the Lawson and all the rival kennels.

THE DEFEAT OF YOUNG CORBETT

HIS ADMIRERS BLAME PHYSICAL

a Fight With the Winner-Not Much

CONDITION. The Weight Also Said to Be in Favor of Britt-Terry McGovern Already After

Money Bet in This City on the Result. Persons who follow the doings of pugilists made the 20 round battle between Young Corbett and Jimmy Britt at San Francisco on Friday night their chief topic of conversation yesterday. Britt's victory was loudly ac-claimed by the "I told you so's," but it was not a popular one as far as New York is conver lad is well known here, has boxed here and made himself conspicuous about the hotels when in town. Naturally, there was much discomfiture on the part of his local friends over his defeat.

Britt's success did not occasion much surprise, at least among those who are acquainted ith his merits as a fighter. They expected him to whip Corbett and he did. And those who were fortunate enough and who had the confidence in his ability to win, and who backed him at the liberal price of 1 to 2, were extremely happy. Of course there were not many of them, but his supporters were enough to put crimps in the bankrolls of a few nervy gamblers, who could not see how Corbett could go down.

The dethronement of champions in this era of rising scrappers and clever athletes does not stir the sports as it used to. They take it as a matter of course, believing that it is essential to the popularity of the manly 'Corbett's defeat was mainly commented on from a physical point of view. His most ardent well wishers, who had wagered a few of their dollars on him, maintained that he must have been in poor shape; that he held Britt too cheaply and that the weight at which the encounter was fought was scarcely which the encounter was fought was scarcely to his liking. Deductions were made to the effect that the weight robbed him of his activity and speed, while, on the other hand, it was maintabned it helped Britt. Hritt is naturally a lightweight, they said, although several of Corbett's sponsors and champions frankly admitted that they never had seen that Colifornian, their only knowledge of his several of Corbett's sponsors and champtons frankly admitted that they never had seen the Californian, their only knowledge of his physical appearance, and fistic prowess being gleaned from the newspapers.

Judging from the accounts of the battle, all these deductions, as far as Corbett's poor fettle is concerned, are mythical. The battle was contested at a rapid pace, so swift, in fact, that at the beginning of the eleventh round both were nearly exhausted from was contested at a rapid pace, so swift, in fact, that at the beginning of the eleventh round both were nearly exhausted from their own exertions. Those who have ever indulged in strenuous exercise can imagine the strain the pair must have undergone and how perfect their condition must have been to sustain it. In all of Corbett's previous battles, with the exception of a few inevitable abrasions of the skin, he has emerged from his conflicts practically unscathed. But in his encounter with Britt he was "reached often and with effect. Britt bled his nose, cut his lips and cut his eye. Whether this indicates that Corbett has lost his eleverness or that he left himself open just to get home a punch that would settle the mill is only conjecture. But the fact is that he received more punishment from Britt than he did from Terry McGovern, Dave Sullivan and Eddie Hanlon, acknowledgedly strong and effective hitters.

On form, if it counts for anything in prize-

Jammy Britt was the chief topic of discussion among the sporting men to-day and the most interesting outcome is that the men will probably meet next time in St. Louis at the time of the Democratic national convention. All the sports to-day said it was the fiercest and most even fight ever seen in a San Francisco ring, but most of the racetrack men and all the leading experts agree than the decision should have been a draw. Young Corbett hurt his own case by loudly proclaiming that he had been robbed and that he should have received the decision because he inflicted the most punishment. The fact is that Referre Graney's decision can be upheld by strict interpretation of Queensberry rules, as Britt did all the leading and certainly outboxed Corbett, but the ex-champion delivered so many powerful blows and showed such great superiority in infighting that a majority of the spectators believed he should have had the benefit of a draw.

in infighting that a majority of the spectators believed he should have had the benefit of a draw.

There is no question that Graney was honest in his decision, but, nevertheless, even many of his friends think he should have strained a point in favor of a stranger and not have given any ground for the charge that he favored the local boxer. Whether there will be a return fight is uncertain. If there is, Corbett will certainly stipulate for a referee who does not hail from 'Frisco.

The heaviest losers on the fight were Young Corbett and his immediate friends. Corbett himself bet every dollar he could scrape up and his mansger, Pollok, bet $5.000 on Corbett straight, and $2.000 that Corbett would win in sixteen rounds. Corbett awe the tip to all his friends that it was a cinch to bet even money that he would win in sixteen rounds, and they took him at his word. The receipts of the fight were $33,000, of which Britt received $15,500, Corbett $9,250 and the club $8,250. Corbett will leave to-morrow for New York direct. His end of the purse will not more than meet his debts.

"The terms of the agreement were not lived up to by Fitzgerald and the deal was declared off. Killilea did not want to sell the club, but Fitzgerald was so persistent that he finally consented."

Daniel Chauncey was the winner, although 8 down, and J. W. McBride second, with 10 down. Usually the bogey is beaten or tied by the winner in such competitions at Dyker, which is comment enough on the state of the course. The greens, too, were heavily sanded and very slow.

At Van Cortlandt Park the announcement was made that there will be no more play on the links until about April 15, to permit seeding, roiling and the germination of the new grass. While the course is resting, some changes will be made in the hazards and new side traps put in. Visitors who may wish to practice at golf will find temporary accommodations, including a putting green or two, but no one will be permitted to play on the regular course.

While the frost is coming out of the ground during the day or two that the turf is opened up and before the settling down process begins, seed will be sown liberally at all of the links. This condition is expected, with warm weather, on to-morrow and Tuesday, and the remainder of the week will be put in at seeding. Perennial rye, grass, Kentucky blue and red top will be favorite seeds. A few days later, after the ground has settled, light rollers will be used and in ten days the new grass will have sprouted, if there are no cold waves to check the germination. The seeding is continuous at the best kept up links, for at the close of day throughout the busy season men go over the course and fill in all cuts and divot holes with a mixture of loam and seed. The heavy snowfall has helped to thicken the turf, and yesterday, while the top surface was soft and yielding, the players at Dyker, Garden City, Nassau and St. Andrews found themselves walking on a mat of old turf, an indication that the grass will need plenty of cutting and rolling once it starts to grow.

ATLANTIC CITY, March 26.—The spring tournament of the Atlantic City Country Club was brought to a close to-day, with the Fownes family very much in evidence, as W. C. Fornes, Jr., Oakmont Country Club, Pittsbyirg, Pa., won the tournament by defeating his father, H. C. Fownes, in the final round for the Governors' cup, while W. C. Fownes, Sr., won the eighteen hole open handicap, which wound up the tourney. Fownes, Jr., had no trouble in defeating his father, although the cld gentleman made a bold start and was 2 up at the fifth green and all square at the seventh. The boy, who outclasses the father, began his swift work at the sixth hole and, by winning seven holes in succession and halving the next two, won with apparent ease.

The second cup was won by E. A. Darby, Atlantic City Country Club, who defeated H. W. Brown, Philadelphia Country Club, in the final round by 4 up and 2 to play.

The third or special cup was won by John C. Powers, Dyker Meadow Golf Club of Brooklyn, who beat George H. Bowley Jersey City, in the final round by 4 up and 3 to play.

Brooklyn, who beat George H. Bowley Jersey City, in the final round by 4 up and 3 to play.

W. E. Shakelford, Atlantic City Country Club and C. B. Fownes, Oakmont Country Club, Pittsburg, the former having won one legs on the President's cup and the latter two legs, qualified in the first division for the Governors' cup. Therefore they played off to see which had the privilege to challenge Darby, and Shackelford won at the twenty-first hole. If he beats Darby, he will have two legs on the cup. The thirty-six holes scratch medal play competition for the Consolation cup offered to the defeated men in the first round for the three cups was won by R. J. Baldwin, Spring Haven, with a score of 87, 94-4181. The summary:

On form, if it counts for anything in prizefighting, Corbett should have won. His record is the better of the two. But Britt must have made rapid strides in his knowledge of the art, while Corbett may have retrgraded. There will probably be a return bout between them at no distant date. Such a match would be a fine attraction for any club and stimulate betting with an even chance for both of victors.

The fact that Britt only won on points and that he failed to knock Corbett down once during the battle, a feat which Eddie Hanlon and a few other fighters have accomplished, somewhat assuaged the feeling will not suffer as much as it would had Britt put him to sleep.

There is some speculation as to whether corbett could have withstood the hammerings he received had the cortest gone five rounds further. In the last three rounds of without stint. It was Corbetts grain

LAKEWOOD. March 26.—A representative field played over the golf course of the Country Club of Lakewood to-day and twenty-one cards were returned in the regular weekend handicaps. John Moller, Jr., who has just returned from the South, handed in the excellent low score of 81, which was the best gross. Metropolitan Champion Findlay Douglas covered the course in low figures, but his card was not turned in for the handicap and was not available. The scores:

For the Military Show.

When the soldiers come to Madison Square Garden for the week beginning May 2, the Military Athletic League will present, at its eighth annual tournament, as strong a programme as it has ever given, and one which the public will welcome. Col. George R. Dyer, president of the league, and the committees are arranging for the detail by the War Department of the field artillery and cavalry now drilling for the show at Fort cavairy now drilling for the show at Fort Myer. Va. and assignments have been made for Company E of the Eighth United States Infantry from Governors Island, and also the band from the island. The famous "kities," otherwise known as the Forty-eighth Highlanders, from Ottawa, will again give New York a chance to see the men who were so popular two years ago-and their band will come with them.

As usual the athletic programme will begin the evenings, and promptly at 7:15, so that the reviews may be on promptly and the military programme complete.

CAMBRIDGE CREW VICTORIOUS

LIGHT BLUES FIRST BY FOUR AND A HALF LENGTHS.

Annual Race Between the University Eights Rowed Early Yesterday Morning-The Crews Abreast at Half Distance-Oxford Distressed at the End. Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. London, March 26 .- The sixty-first annual boat race between the Oxford and Cambridge University crews was rowed to-day over the Putney-Mortlake course, about four and a quarter makes, and was won by Cambridge by four and a half lengths. The winner's time was 22 minutes 34 seconds.

The condition of the tide made it necessary to row the race unusually early this morning, and arrangements were made to start at 7:45 o'clock. As might have been expected, this had an effect on the number of specta-tors, who were few as compared with the number that usually throng the Thames and its banks when the race is held at a more popular hour.

The weather was dull and raw and threatening rain, but there was scarcely any wind. The water was smooth and a strong tide was running up stream.

The crews were quite up to the average of university excellence. The betting was to 4 in favor of Cambridge over night, but the crews were well matched and a close struggle was expected.
Cambridge won the toss and chose the Surrey side. Just before the start a driz-zling rain set in, creating a baze.

The start was made at 7:57 o'clock, both crews taking the water in the best of fashi on. Oxford began at thirty-six strokes to the minute and Cambridge at thirty-five.

Oxford began at thirty-five.

At the mile and a quarter Oxford was a length shead, but at the two miles the crews, were abreast, and both were pulling in good form.

At the two and three-quarter miles Cambridge began to draw slowly ahead, and although the Oxonians stuck to their work gamely, the Light Blue steadily increased the lead, which, at Barnes Bridge, three-fourths of a mile from the finish, was two and a half lengths. Oxford here began to show distress. The Cambridge men rowed on steadily, well within their powers, and won by four and a half lengths.

The crews in to-day's race were made up as follows:

EXIT JIMMY MICHAEL ..

Former "Midget Wonder" of Cycling Is Wreck at Home in Wales. Jimmy Michael has not gone to France, as has been reported. He is now at his home at Abermman, Wales. Michael left this country with his brother Willie about three weeks ago, broken in health and finances. It is said his passage home was paid for by a former trainer. It is probable he will never race again. He is not to continue "broke," however, for he went home to settle up the affairs of a relative of whom he was one of the heirs. It is understood that his inheritance, while not a fortune, will keep him from immediate want. Since he fall at Berlin last summer, Michael's mental faculties have seemed impaired. After the six day race here he was not like the Michael of old. He was careless of his personal appearance; which was strange for him and he imagined that his friends and associates were conspiring against him.

He was surly, suspicious and lacked ambition to train or negotiate for engagements during the riding season. He looked about at Sheepshead Bay for awhile, then went to Jacksonville, Fla, to ride. He would not train as of old, though, and finally Tom Eck bought him his passage home. race again. He is not to continue "broke,

HUCKLEBERRY INDIANS DINE. New York A. C. Tribe in Seventh Annual

Feast at Clubhouse. The New York A. C. "Huckleberry Indians" held their seventh annual feast at the club-house last night, and the tribe, consisting of 150 braves, devoured the "big feed" and "fire-water" laid before them with rare rapacity. The breakfast room, where the "feed took place, was appropriately decorated with eagles' feathers, tomahawks, bows, arrows, bowie knives, lighting cloth, medicine bags, tepee wattles, tomtoms and other redskin paraphernalia. At one end of the room was hung the big "Mercury foot" flag. and on the opposite was the monogram
"H. I." illuminated in red and blue electric

In the centre of the room was a big round table where sat Big Chief E. F. Haubold, who presided, and with him were the speakers, or "big talk" men, President John R. Van Wormer, Senator Charles A. Towne of Minnesota, Corporation Council Lohn J. Delaw Frank J. Kilpatrick and John J. Delany, Frank J. Kilpatrick and Clay M. Greene. At the next table were the committee of arrangements, Robert C. 'Kammerer, E. S. Innet, W. H. Peckwell and F. Vilmar. Each brave received a stein surmounted with an Indian head, a map of Huckleberry Island, which contained the menu, and a cigar case.

Prominent among those present were Isaac Bell Brennan, Walter A. Burke, C. J. Davies, Frank G. Fuligraf, W. Hinsdale, John C. Jordan, R. W. Hanson, E. Blandot, Albert E. Colfax, John A. Columbia Man Disqualified, Giving Team

Honors to the Elis. The Intercollegiate Association Gymnastic Championship, which ended early yesterday morning, at the gymnasium of New York University, developed a protest which proved valuable to Yale. Block of Columbia, who won the side horse, was objected to by New York University and Yale for leaving the floor during the competition. The protest was sustained by the executive committee. The team championship was won by Yale with 18 points, Columbia being second, with 12. and New York University third, with 8 12, and New York University third, with s. Princeton scored 6, Pennsylvania 5 and Rutgers 5. W. L. Anderson, Yale, won the all-around championship easily. The summary of the side horse, with the two remaining events, not published in yesterday's Sun, are as follows:
